[REDACTED]

Dear Sir:

25X1A9a

Mr. [REDACTED] who accompanied Mr. [REDACTED] on our annual recruiting visit to [REDACTED] last fall, is out of the country on an extended tour. I will have the pleasure, therefore, of accompanying Mr. [REDACTED] to the University on the 28th and 29th of this month. 25X1A9a

While we will be primarily interested in talking to economists at all levels of experience and training, we would be particularly interested in those who have had a substantial amount of graduate work. It would be appreciated if it could be arranged for us to make a brief presentation to students who would like to hear generally what the Central Intelligence Agency has to offer in the way of career opportunities and to follow up this informal talk with individual meetings with students.

While I have not had the pleasure of meeting you, I have been associated with Messrs. [REDACTED] in the past and have taken the liberty of dropping them a note informing them of this pending visit.

I am happy to report that Mr. [REDACTED] has joined our staff, and that while he has been with us only a brief period of time, we are favorably impressed with his professional capabilities. Your cooperation in recommending persons that seem to be particularly qualified in our line of work will be appreciated.

25X1A9a Sincerely yours,

[REDACTED]
